Studies in Education Policy are published periodically throughout the year by The Fraser Institute, Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada.

The Fraser Institute is an independent Canadian economic and social research and educational organization. It has as its objective the redirection of public attention to the role of competitive markets in providing for the well-being of Canadians. Where markets work, the Institute's interest lies in trying to discover prospects for improvement. Where markets do not work, its interest lies in finding the reasons. Where competitive markets have been replaced by government control, the interest of the Institute lies in documenting objectively the nature of the improvement or deterioration resulting from government intervention. The work of the Institute is assisted by an Editorial Advisory Board of internationally renowned economists. The Fraser Institute is a national, federally chartered non-profit organization financed by the sale of its publications and the tax-deductible contributions of its members, foundations, and other supporters; it receives no government funding.

Introduction

The Report Card on Alberta's Elementary Schools: 2004 Edition (hereafter, Report Card) collects a variety of relevant, objective indicators of school performance into one, easily accessible public document so that anyone can analyze and compare the performance of individual schools. By doing so, the Report Card assists parents when they choose a school for their children and encourages and assists all those seeking to improve their schools.

The Fraser Institute's report cards are well established in Canada. In the United States, the departments of education in 49 states publish annual report cards on schools—for all school levels—many of which are not dissimilar to the Institute's series. In the United Kingdom, the national Department for Education and Skills publishes a wide variety of data on school performance.

Report cards on schools are becoming commonplace. But, are they effective? Certainly, anecdotal evidence provided to the authors by parents and school administrators confirm their usefulness. Further, research suggests that real gains in school performance can result from their introduction. In an article published in 2001, Caroline Hoxby,<sup>1</sup> a Harvard professor of Economics well known for her work related to education, showed that students in American states that published report cards experienced faster improvement in their scores on the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) than did students in states that did not publish report cards. Hoxby concludes, "Statewide standardized tests and school report cards may be unpleasant for ineffectual educators, but they should not be controversial with parents or policy makers who want to see higher achievement. Schools conduct themselves better when their constituents are informed."

In 2000, The Fraser Institute introduced an indicator of the relative success of boys and girls at each school in its report cards. By measuring the academic achievement gap between two groups of students as well as the change, if any, in the gap over time, we are able to draw some conclusions about the extent to which each school ensures that all its students succeed.

Reporting on achievement gaps among student groups as a means to facilitate and encourage improvement has taken hold. In 2002, the Congress of the United States enacted legislation<sup>2</sup> requiring states to focus on the reduction of academic achievement gaps among groups of students thought to be systematically disadvantaged. The program is described as follows.

No Child Left Behind is designed to change the culture of America's schools by closing the achievement gap, offering more flexibility, giving parents more options, and teaching students based on what works.

Under the act's accountability provisions, states must describe how they will close the achievement gap and make sure all students, including those who are disadvantaged, achieve academic proficiency. They must produce annual state and school district report cards that inform parents and communities about state and school progress. Schools that do not make progress must provide supplemental services, such as free tutoring or after-school assistance; take corrective actions; and, if still not making adequate yearly progress after five years, make dramatic changes to the way the school is run.<sup>3</sup>

Encouraged by recent indications<sup>4</sup> of the positive effect of analyzing and reporting achievement gaps, The Fraser Institute has begun a series of special reports on the academic achievement of Canadian Aboriginal<sup>5</sup> students. The available evidence shows that this student group has, on average, substantially and chronically under-performed relative to the total student population. Using data made available to us by British Columbia's Ministry of Education, in early 2004 we published the Report Card on Aboriginal Education in British Columbia.<sup>6</sup> We will maintain the focus on Aboriginal academic challenges by including an Aboriginal gap indicator in subsequent editions of the report cards on British Columbian schools. We would like to begin the same program in Alberta and the other provinces. However, that will not be possible until Aboriginal education authorities are convinced that such analysis and public reporting of school results will help aboriginal students succeed at school.

Some First Nations education authorities underestimate the value of bad news

From across the country comes compelling evidence that large numbers of on-reserve First Nations and other Aboriginal students are not acquiring the basic academic skills they will need to succeed in life. Canada's Aboriginal parents, their leaders, educators, and provincial and federal government officials are all very much aware of this deplorable state of affairs. Yet, with very few exceptions, the country's Aboriginal education authorities and responsible provincial and federal ministries are apparently unwilling to take the critical first step toward real and lasting change. The history of The Fraser Institute's report cards has shown that, by making school-by-school average student academic results regularly and publicly available, all interested parties are assisted and encouraged to get on with the job of improvement. For Aboriginal students, such improvement will only begin when we are all regularly reminded of the painfully large gap in academic achievement between Canada's Aboriginal students and their non-Aboriginal classmates.

In British Columbia, the failure rates for Aboriginal students on the grades 4, 7, and 10 provincial reading tests during the last four school years have always exceeded 40% and reached a high—on the 2002 sitting of the grade-10 test—of 51%. Their failure rate on every one of the grade-4 and grade-7 exams was more than double that of their non-Aboriginal classmates. Their performance on the grade-10 tests was not appreciably better.

In Quebec, at the only school operated by a First Nation authority that presented sufficient student results to qualify for inclusion in the Fraser Institute's Report Card on Quebec's Secondary Schools: 2003 Edition,<sup>7</sup> students failed nearly 40% of their Secondary-IV level and Secondary-V level uniform, provincial examinations. Only 16 of the 455 schools included in the Report Card on Quebec's Secondary Schools equaled or exceeded this failure rate.

In Ontario, the vast majority of federally funded First Nations schools have chosen not to participate in the annual testing of students in grades 3 and 6 in reading, writing, and mathematics. These tests, administered on behalf of the Education Quality and Accountability Office, are required of all students attending schools within the province's public and separate systems.

What is the situation in Alberta? In the course of preparing the 2004 editions of the Institute's report cards on Alberta's schools, we requested—under the province's Freedom of Information Act—test results data related to the students at band-operated, on-reserve schools. Alberta Learning had not previously provided this data. Our request was refused on the grounds that “disclosure [of the requested information would be] harmful to inter-governmental relations” or would “reveal information supplied, explicitly or implicitly, in confidence.” An appeal of this decision to the Information and Privacy Commissioner of Alberta was denied.

Thus, while we wish to publish a Report Card on Aboriginal Education in Alberta, we are unable to do so. Apparently, Alberta Learning fears that, if it were to allow publication of these data, the band-schools would no longer administer the annual assessments the results of which form the basis of the report cards. Further, Alberta does not, at present, offer Aboriginal students the opportunity to identify themselves voluntarily as such in their permanent student records. For this reason, the academic results of Aboriginal students attending public, separate, and private schools cannot be segregated for purposes of reporting. Although Alberta Learning has established the Aboriginal Learner Data Collection Initiative,<sup>8</sup> which is intended to secure the voluntary identification of Aboriginal students, there is no indication that any data collected as a result of this initiative will be made public.

Resistance from Aboriginal education authorities to the publication of student results data undoubtedly exists because average levels of performance among Aboriginal students are very low. While such a position is understandable, we believe that it is counterproductive. The evidence shows that unless the bad news is made public, real improvement will be, at best, sluggish. Full and public disclosure will provide much greater incentive for improvement.

There is no doubt that report cards on the achievement levels of Aboriginal students and the gap between their results and those of other students in the Alberta will create concern in some quarters. It will, after all, draw attention to what is a lamentable failure to engage Aboriginal students in the learning processes that most of us agree contribute to future success both financially and as fully functioning members of society. The failure of Aboriginal students to achieve performance levels comparable to those of non-Aboriginal students reflects decades of institutional failure and there are only scant signs that matters are improving. But, by giving quantitative measures of the successes and failures, we can make it possible to measure improvement. The alternative, a continuation of things as they have been and as they are, is surely not acceptable.

The Report Card facilitates school improvement

Certainly, the act of publicly rating and ranking schools attracts attention. This attention can provide both a carrot and a stick. Schools that perform well or show consistent improvement are applauded. The results of poorly performing schools generate concern as do those whose performance is deteriorating. This inevitable attention provides an incentive for all those connected with a school to focus on student results.

However, the Report Card offers more than just incentive. It includes a variety of indicators, each of which reports results for an aspect of school performance that might be improved. School administrators who are dedicated to improvement eagerly accept the Report Card as another source of opportunities for improvement.

Some schools do better than others

To improve a school, one must believe that improvement is achievable. This Report Card, like The Fraser Institute's report cards on secondary schools, provides evidence about what can be accomplished. It demonstrates clearly that, even when we take into account factors such as the students' family background, which some believe dictate the degree of academic success that students will have in school, some schools do better than others. This finding confirms the results of research carried out in other countries.<sup>9</sup> Indeed, it will come as no great surprise to experienced parents and educators that the data consistently suggest that what goes on in the schools makes a difference to academic results and that some schools make more of a difference than others.

Comparisons are at the heart of the improvement process

Many elementary school authorities in Alberta provide students and their parents with report cards that include both the student's mark and the median mark for each subject in which the student is enrolled. The report cards also show any marks awarded to the student earlier in the year. Comparative and historical data like these enable students and parents to see a clearer picture of the student's progress. By comparing a school's results with those of neighbouring schools or of schools with similar school and student characteristics, we can identify more successful schools and learn from them. By comparing a school's latest results with those of earlier years, we can see if the school is improving. Reference to overall provincial results places an individual school's level of achievement in a broader context.

There is great benefit in identifying schools that are particularly effective. By studying the techniques used in schools where students are successful, less effective schools may find ways to improve. This advantage is not lost on the United Kingdom's Department of Education and Skills. Its Beacon Schools program<sup>10</sup> identifies schools across the country that have demonstrated expertise in a wide variety of challenging aspects of the management of schools and the teaching and counselling of their students.

Comparisons are at the heart of improvement: making comparisons among schools is made simpler and more meaningful by the Report Card's indicators, ratings, and rankings.

The Report Card can help parents choose

Where parents can choose among several schools for their children, the Report Card provides a valuable tool for making a decision. Because it makes comparisons easy, the Report Card alerts parents to those nearby schools that appear to have more effective academic programs. Parents can also determine whether or not schools of interest are improving over time. By first studying the Report Card, parents will be better prepared to ask relevant questions when they interview the principal and teachers at the schools under consideration.

Of course, the choice of a school should not be made solely on the basis of any one source of information. Families choosing a school for their students should seek to confirm the Report Card's findings by visiting the school and interviewing teachers and school administrators. In addition, a sound academic program should be complemented by effective programs in areas of school activity not measured by the Report Card. Nevertheless, the Report Card provides a detailed picture of each school that is not easily available elsewhere.

A measure of academic effectiveness for schools

The foundation of the Report Card is an overall rating of each school's academic performance. Building on data about student results provided by Alberta Learning (the provincial ministry of education) we rate each school on a scale from zero to 10. We base our overall rating of each school's academic performance on seven indicators:

- (1) average achievement-test marks (percent) in grade-3 language arts;
- (2) average achievement-test marks (percent) in grade-3 mathematics;
- (3) average achievement-test marks (percent) in grade-6 language arts;
- (4) average achievement-test marks (percent) in grade-6 mathematics;
- (5) the percentage of achievement tests in (1) to (4) where the results were below the acceptable standard;
- (6) the difference between male and female students in their average achievement-test mark in grade-6 language arts;
- (7) the difference between male and female students in their average achievement-test mark in grade-6 mathematics.

We have selected this set of indicators as they provide systematic insight into a school's performance: because they are based on annually generated data, we can assess not only each school's performance in a year but also its improvement or deterioration over time.

Indicators of effective teaching

Average achievement-test marks

These indicators (in the tables Avg exam mark) report the average percentage achieved by a school's students on the uniform achievement tests in two core subject areas. For each school, each indicator is the average score (expressed as a percentage) achieved by all of the school's students who completed the tests in the language arts and mathematics at the grade-3 and grade-6 levels.

Fundamental to the mission of elementary schools is teaching its students sound basic skills in reading, writing, and mathematics. Basic literacy and numeracy are essential building blocks for life-long learning. The tests upon which the Report Card is based assess students on these dimensions. Examinations are designed to achieve a distribution of results reflecting the differences in students' mastery of this course work. Differences among students in abilities, motivation, and work-habits will inevitably have some impact upon the final results. There are, however, recognizable differences from school to school within a district in the average results on the achievement tests. There is also variation within schools in the results obtained in different subject areas. Such differences in outcomes cannot be wholly explained by the individual and family characteristics of the school's students. It seems reasonable, therefore, to include the average test marks in these two critical subject areas as indicators of effective teaching.

Percentage of achievement tests failed

For each school, this indicator (in the tables Percentage of exams failed) provides the rate of failure

(as a percentage) on the achievement tests. It was derived by dividing the sum of all the above achievement tests written by the school's students where either the score was below the acceptable standard or the test was only partially completed by the total number of such tests written by those students.

Since reading and mathematics are critical to students' further intellectual and personal development, students should, at the minimum, be able to demonstrate that they meet the acceptable standard of performance for their grade in these subject areas. Schools have the responsibility of ensuring that their students are adequately prepared to do so.

How well do the teachers take differences among students into account?

The Gender gap indicators

Undoubtedly, the personal characteristics of students can influence the way that they learn. Successful teachers will take into account these characteristics as they develop and implement their lesson plans and teaching strategies. The extent to which a school's teachers succeed in this task can be measured by comparing the results of two different groups of students known to exhibit differences in their learning patterns and academic results.<sup>11</sup>

The relative academic success of boys and girls is a subject of considerable interest in the education establishment as evidenced by the near universal collection of student results data for these two groups of students by ministries of education. The Report Card uses these data to construct the Gender gap indicators.

The Gender gap indicators measure the difference, if any, between boys and girls in their average marks on achievement tests in grade-6 language arts and mathematics. The indicators report the size of the difference and the more successful sex.

In general, how is the school doing, academically?

The Overall rating out of 10

While each of the indicators is important, it is almost always the case that any school does better on some indicators than on others. So, just as a teacher must make a decision about a student's overall performance, we need an overall indicator of school performance (in the tables Overall rating out of 10). Just as teachers combine test scores, homework, and class participation to rate a student, we have combined all the indicators to produce an overall school rating. The overall rating of school performance answers the question, "In general, how is the school doing, academically?"

To derive this rating, the results for each of the indicators, for each of the five years were first standardized. Standardization is a statistical procedure whereby sets of raw data with different characteristics are converted into sets of values with "standard" statistical properties. Standardized values can readily be combined and compared.

The standardized data were then combined where required to produce seven standardized scores—one for each indicator—for each school, for each year. The seven standardized scores were weighted and combined to produce an overall standardized score. Finally, this score was converted into an overall rating out of 10. It is from this Overall rating out of 10 that the school's provincial rank is determined.

For schools where only boys or girls were enrolled, there are, of course, no results for the Gender gap indicators. In these cases the Overall rating is derived using the remaining five indicators. (See Appendix 1 for an explanation of the calculation of the Overall rating out of 10.)

The Report Card includes other indicators that, while they are not used to derive the Overall rating out of 10, add more information on the school's effectiveness.

Other indicators of school performance

The Exams not written indicator

The uniform achievement tests provide objective measures of how each student is progressing in important basic subject areas. Such feedback is important to students and parents. It is also important to teachers, school administrators, and taxpayers, for whom the test results are an indication of the extent to which the schools have successfully discharged their responsibilities.

Alberta Learning requires that all students who are able to write these tests, do so. The Exams not written indicator calculates the percentage of the tests that could have been completed by the school's students but which were not assigned a score. Such non-participation results when students are excused from the tests, are absent for some part of the tests, or do not complete the test to the extent necessary to score it. Thus, this indicator assesses the extent to which each school takes full advantage of the uniform achievement tests as useful measurements of student achievement.

The Trend indicator

Is the school improving academically? The Report Card provides seven years of data for most schools. Unlike a simple snapshot of one year's results, this historical record provides evidence of change (or lack thereof) over time. To detect trends in the performance indicators, we developed the Trend indicator. This indicator uses statistical analysis to identify those dimensions of school performance in which there has likely been real change rather than a fluctuation in results caused by random occurrences. To calculate the trends, the standardized scores rather than raw data are used. Standardizing makes historical data more comparable and the trend measurement more reliable. Because calculation of trends is uncertain when only a small number of data points is available, a trend is indicated only in those circumstances where five years of data are available and where the trend is statistically significant. For this indicator, we have defined the term "statistically significant" to mean that, nine times out of 10, the trend that is noted is real, that is, it did not happen just by chance.

The socio-economic indicator

Educators can and should take into account the abilities, interests, and backgrounds of their students when they design lesson plans and teach the curriculum. By doing so, they can overcome disadvantages that their students may have. The socio-economic indicator enables us to identify schools that are roughly similar to each other with respect to the home background of their students so that their results can be compared. Effective schools produce good results regardless of the family background of their students.

For this edition of the Report Card, we use the Parents' average education (yrs) as the socio-economic indicator. This indicator is calculated using data provided by Alberta Learning that shows the number of students enrolled at the school who live in each of the province's census dissemination areas. It also uses data from the 2001 census, provided by Statistics Canada, that reports values for a variety of family and parental characteristics for families in each of the province's census dissemination areas that include at least one child of elementary school age as at the date of the 2001 census.

Previous studies<sup>12</sup> have shown that variations in student results from school to school cannot be accounted for solely by the personal and family characteristics of its students. Many other factors—including good teaching, counselling, and school administration—contribute to the effectiveness of schools. Indicators like Parents' average education (yrs) describe past relationships between a socio-economic characteristic and a measure of school effectiveness. It should not be inferred that these relationships will, or should, remain static. The more effectively schools enable all their students to succeed, the weaker will be the relationship between the home characteristics of students and their academic success. Thus, this socio-economic indicator should not be used as an excuse for poor school performance.

The Value-added indicators

Value-added measures are designed to show whether a school is having a positive effect on its students over a period of time. That is, does what happens in school—teaching, counseling, encouragement, and the like—really matter? Do students succeed, at least partly, because of the quality of the school or is it simply that the children of well-educated, highly motivated parents do relatively better than all the rest. One way to measure the effect of the school is to estimate how much of a given school result is due to the personal characteristics of the students and to their families' characteristics and then to assume that the remainder is due to school effects.

In the Report Card on Quebec's Secondary Schools: 2002 Edition,<sup>13</sup> Professor Richard Marceau, co-author of the Report Card, developed a technique to isolate the schools' effect on the Report Card's Overall rating indicator.<sup>14</sup> His analysis used the employment income of the parents to capture family characteristics and the proportion of students entering the Secondary IV level (the equivalent of Alberta's grade 10) who were older than expected (16 years old or more) to capture the influence of individual students' characteristics and academic history. Using a technique similar to regression analysis, he reduced the Overall rating by the amount estimated to be associated with the two general, non-school effects. The remainder was the portion of the Overall rating attributed to school effects. He then ranked the schools on this remainder, divided the ranked schools into quartiles, and assigned a letter-grade to the schools in each of the quartiles. Schools that had the greatest effect on their students—those in the first quartile of the ranking—received an A for value added. Schools ranked in the second quartile had an effect that was somewhat above average on their students and received a B. Schools ranked in the third quartile had an effect that was somewhat below average and received a C. Those schools that had the least effect on their students received a D.

For this Report Card, we have adopted a similar technique using regression analysis to determine the effect of schools on student results as demonstrated by their relative success in the grade-6 language arts and mathematics provincial achievement tests. The procedure estimates the extent to which the grade-6 results are associated with Parents' average education (yrs.)—as the measure of student family characteristics—and the results achieved by the school's students on the corresponding grade-3 achievement test written three years earlier—as the measure of combined student characteristics like basic ability, motivation, and prior academic experience. The grade-6 results were then reduced by the amount estimated to be associated with these two non-school effects. Finally, the schools were ranked and assigned a letter grade for value added as described in the preceding paragraph.

Note that the value-added letter grade is only an estimate. First, we cannot be certain that every student at the school in grade 6 was also at the school in grade 3. Second, for schools whose grade-3 classes scored very well or very poorly, it is likely that any change in their level of achievement will be towards the average rather than away from it. For instance, at a school where the average test mark for the grade-3 class was in the top 2% of all schools, it would be extremely unlikely that its grade-6 results three years later would be even better. Third, there may be factors unrelated to school performance that explain why grade-6 results at a school will differ markedly from grade-3 results. For instance, students at French immersion schools take the grade-3

Language Arts examination in English even though they have not yet received instruction in English. Because they subsequently take instruction in English, it is likely that they will show considerable improvement in that language by the time they take the grade-6 Language Arts achievement test.

Nevertheless, the Value-added indicators can be useful in that they estimate change over time in the school achievement of a particular cohort of students. Thus, they take personal and family characteristics into account and provide a reasonable measure of the effect of the school on the students' level of achievement between grades 3 and 6. (See Appendix 2 for further details of the calculation of the Value-added indicators.)

Detailed school tables

How to read the tables

Use the sample table and the explanation of each line below to help you interpret the detailed results for individual schools. Families choosing a school for their students should seek to confirm the Report Card's findings by visiting the school and interviewing teachers, school administrators, and other parents. And, of course, a sound academic program should be complemented by effective programs in areas of school activity not measured by the Report Card.

More information regarding schools may be found on the Alberta Learning web site at http://ednet.edc.gov.ab.ca/k\_12/ and on the web sites of local school authorities.

Row A

Each of the schools in the Report Card has been assigned to a Geographic Area based on the city or town in which the school is located. Grouping schools in these Geographic Areas makes it easier to compare them. Within each Geographic Area, the schools are listed in order of their 2002/2003 provincial ranking. Where schools are tied, they are listed in order of their provincial ranking for the past five years.

Row B

The average number of years of education of the most educated parent (or lone parent in a single parent family). Higher values of this statistic are commonly thought to be associated with better student performance. Use this statistic to identify schools at which the students share similar family backgrounds.

Row C (left)

The percentage of the tests that could have been completed by the school's students but which were not assigned a score. The Exams not written percentage takes into account tests not completed due to students' absence; because students were excused from writing the test by the superintendent; or where students' results were withheld because, for instance, they retired during the test sitting due to illness or they were found to have cheated.

Note that schools that administer these tests are expected to ensure that all their students participate. For this reason, you should take note of the Exams not written percentage when you consider each school's results on the Report Card. The principal of a school with a high Exams not written percentage should be able to provide good reasons for the students' failure to complete the tests.

The school's overall academic rank in the province for 2002/2003 and for the last five years. The rankings show how the school has done academically compared to the other schools in the province. A high ranking over five years indicates consistently strong results at the school.

Row D

The average mark (%) achieved by the students on the grade-3 language arts achievement test. Note that all the academic performance indicators—except the 3-year Value added indicators and the Overall rating out of 10—are expressed as percentage points.

Row E

Row F

The average mark (%) achieved by the students on the grade-6 language arts achievement test.

Row G

The average mark (%) achieved by the students on the grade-6 mathematics achievement test.

Rows H & I

The difference (in percentage points) between boys and girls in their average marks on the grade-6 language arts and mathematics achievement tests. Where the difference favours the girls the value is preceded by an F. Where boys are favoured, the value is preceded by an M. An E means that there is no difference between the girls and the boys on this measure. Smaller differences indicate that the school is doing a good job for all its students.

Row J

The percentage of all the grade-3 and grade-6 achievement tests in language arts and mathematics written by students at the school that were below the acceptable standard. Note that tests that were found to be only partially complete are included in this percentage.

Rows K & L

These are estimates of the school's contribution to its students' results on the grade-6 language arts and mathematics achievement tests. Schools that have a strong positive impact on their students receive an A for this indicator. Those that receive a B or a C may have some positive impact on their students. Schools that have little impact receive a D.

Row M

The Overall rating out of 10 takes into account the seven indicators described in rows D through J above to answer the question, "In general, how is the school doing academically?"

Column N

An "up" at the end of an indicator row means that the school is probably improving on that indicator. A "down" means that the school is probably getting worse. The researchers had to be at least 90% sure that the changes were not just random before indicating a trend. A dash indicates that there is no significant change. Where insufficient data were available, "n/a" appears in the column. Note that for Percentage of exams failed and the two Gender gap indicators, a downward trend in the data will lead to an "up" in the trend column. For example, a decreasing Percentage of exams failed indicates improvement and so "up" is displayed.

Cell O

The number of students enrolled in grade 6 as of September 30, 2002. Indicator results for small schools tend to be more variable than those for larger schools and caution should be used in interpreting the results for smaller schools.

Other notes*Note 1

Not all the province's elementary schools are included in the tables or the ranking. Of all the schools in the province reporting results for the achievement tests, 769 are included in this Report Card. In some school districts and divisions that operate middle schools or junior high schools, the elementary schools may not enroll students in grade 6. Since the Report Card is based on the results of tests given in grades 3 and 6, these elementary schools cannot be included.

In addition, schools at which fewer than 15 students were enrolled in either grade 3 or grade 6 are excluded, as are schools that did not generate a sufficiently large set of student data to enable the calculation of an Overall rating out of 10 for the school year 2002/2003. The exclusion of a school from the Report Card should not be considered a judgement of the school's effectiveness.

Note 2

In accordance with its regulations regarding the privacy of personal information, where school results involved less than six students, Alberta Learning provided no data.

Note 3

Where there were insufficient data available with which to calculate an indicator or where a school was not in operation during a specific year, "n/a" appears in the tables.

Note 4

You can compare a school's results with these all-schools average results.

Ranking the schools

Important notes to the rankings

In this table, schools are ranked (on the left hand side of the page) in descending order (from 1 to 765) according to their academic performance as measured by the Overall rating out of ten (shown on the right hand side of the table) for the school year 2002/2003. Each school's five-year average ranking and Overall rating out of ten are also listed. The higher the overall rating (out of 10), the higher the rank awarded to the school. Where schools tied in the overall rating, they were awarded the same rank.

Where less than five years of data were available "n/a" appears in the table.

Not all the province's elementary schools are included in the tables or the ranking. Excluded are schools at which fewer than 15 students were enrolled in either grade 3 or grade 6 and schools that did not generate a sufficiently large set of student data to enable the calculation of an Overall rating out of 10.

The exclusion of a school from the Report Card should in no way be construed as a judgement of the school's effectiveness.

Appendix 1: Calculating the Overall rating out of 10

The Overall rating out of 10 is intended to answer the question, “In general, how is the school doing, academically?” The following is a simplified description of the procedure used to convert the raw indicator data into the Overall rating out of 10.

- 1 Course by course, the average achievement test marks and failure rates for each school were standardized by calculating  $Z$ , which is defined by:

$$Z = (X - \mu) / \sigma$$

where  $X$  is the individual school’s result,  $\mu$  is the mean of the all-schools distribution of results, and  $\sigma$  is the standard deviation of the same all-schools distribution.

- 2 The course-by-course standardized failure rate data were then aggregated to produce a weighted average standardized failure rate value. The weighting used was the number of student writers in each subject area at the school relative to the total number of student writers of the relevant tests.
- 3 This weighted average failure rate result was then re-standardized.
- 4 The Gender gap indicators were calculated using the raw data and then standardized as described in step 1 above.
- 5 The seven standardized indicator results were then combined to produce a weighted average summary standardized score for the school. The weightings used in these calculations were Average exam mark (for each of the four subject areas)—12.5%; Percentage of exams failed—30%; Grade-6 gender gap: Language Arts—10%; Grade-6 gender gap: Mathematics—10%. For schools for which there were no gender-gap results in either of the two courses, the Percentage of exams failed was weighted at 50%.
- 6 This summary standardized score was re-standardized.

This standardized score was converted into an overall rating between 0 and 10 as follows:

- 7 The allowable maximum and minimum standardized scores were set at 2.2 and  $-3.29$  respectively. Scores equal to, or greater than, 2.2 receive an overall rating of 10. This cut-off was chosen because it allows more than one school in a given year to be awarded 10 out of 10. Scores of equal to, or less than,  $-3.29$  receive the lowest overall rating of 0. Schools with scores below  $-3.29$  are likely to be outliers, a statistical term used to denote members of a population that appear to have characteristics substantially different from the rest of the population. We chose, therefore, to set the minimum score so as to disregard such extreme differences.

- 8 The resulting standardized scores were converted into Overall ratings according to the formula:

$$OR = \mu + (\sigma * StanScore)$$

where OR is the resulting Overall rating,  $\mu$  is the average calculated according to the formula:

$$\mu = (OR_{\min} - 10 (Z_{\min} / Z_{\max})) / (1 - (Z_{\min} / Z_{\max}))$$ where  $\sigma$  is the standard deviation calculated according to the formula:

$$\sigma = (10 - \mu) / Z_{\max}$$ and StanScore is the standardized score calculated in (6) above and adjusted as required for minimum and maximum values as noted in (7) above. As noted in (7) above,  $OR_{\min}$  equals zero,  $Z_{\min}$  equals  $-3.29$ ; and  $Z_{\max}$  equals  $2.2$ .

- 9 Finally, the derived Overall rating is rounded to one place of the decimal to reflect the significant number of places of the decimal in the original raw data.

Note that the Overall rating out of 10, based as it is on standardized scores, is a relative rating. That is, in order for a school to show improvement in its Overall rating, it must improve more than the average. If it improves, but at a rate less than the average, it will show a decline in its rating.

Appendix 2: Calculating the Value added indicators

The Value added indicators were calculated as follows:

- 1 For each grade-6 test, for each of the school years beginning with 2000/2001, the standardized results were regressed on the two independent variables, Parents' average education in years (based on 2001 Census data) and Grade-3 standardized exam mark achieved at the school three years earlier. The regression coefficients were then determined (see table A2 below).
- 2 For each grade-6 examination, for each of the three school years, the proportions of the standardized result associated with Parents' average education (yrs) and Grade-3 standardized exam mark were deducted from the total, according to the formula:

where  $G6_{\text{Seff}}$  is the component of the grade-6 standardized results attributed to school effects;  $G6$  is the actual, standardized grade-6 examination result;  $b_{\text{Ed}}$  is the parents' average education (yrs) regression coefficient;  $\text{EdMEP}$  is the parents' average education (yrs) at the school;  $b_{\text{g3}}$  is the grade-3 standardized exam mark regression coefficient; and,  $G3$  is the average grade-3 standardized exam mark achieved at the school three years earlier.

- 3 The proportion of the grade-6 standardized exam result attributed to school effects ( $G6_{\text{Seff}}$ ) was standardized.
- 4 The standardized values of  $G6_{\text{Seff}}$  for all the schools were sorted from highest to lowest and divided into quartiles.
- 5 The results were converted into a letter grade determined by the quartile into which each result was placed. Schools whose result fell in the fourth (highest scoring) quartile, received a letter grade of A; those in the third quartile received a letter grade of B; those in the second quartile received a letter grade of C; and, those in the first quartile (lowest scoring) received a letter grade of D.

Notes

EdMEP is the average number of years of education of the most educated parent in student families. It is derived from 2001 Census data aggregated to the Dissemination Area (DA) level for the school year 2002-2003 and from 1996 Census data aggregated to the Enumeration Area (EA) level for previous years. Alberta Learning provided the necessary enrollment data. For each of the two value-added indicators, the variable 2000_WeightedStdResultGr3 is the standardized average mark at the school on the indicated test sitting in the school year 1999/2000.

About the authors & Acknowledgments

Peter Cowley

Peter Cowley is the Director of School Performance Studies at The Fraser Institute. Upon graduation from the University of British Columbia (B.Comm. 1974), Mr Cowley accepted a marketing post with Proctor and Gamble in Toronto. Shortly thereafter he returned to Vancouver to begin a long career in marketing and general management in the furniture-manufacturing sector. During his assignments in general management, process improvement was a special focus and interest. In 1994, Mr Cowley wrote and published The Parent's Guide, a popular handbook for parents of British Columbia's secondary-school students. The Parent's Guide web site replaced the handbook in 1995. In 1998, Mr Cowley was co-author of The Fraser Institute's A Secondary Schools Report Card for British Columbia, the first of the Institute's continuing series of annual reports on school performance. This was followed in 1999 by The 1999 Report Card on British Columbia's Secondary Schools, Boys, Girls, and Grades: Academic Gender Balance in British Columbia's Secondary Schools, and The 1999 Report Card on Alberta's High Schools. Since then, Mr Cowley has co-authored all of the Institute's annual Report Cards. Editions published in 2003 included Report Cards on secondary schools in British Columbia, Alberta, and Quebec as well as Report Cards on elementary schools in British Columbia, Alberta, and Ontario. He continues his research on education and related issues for The Fraser Institute.

Stephen T. Easton

Stephen T. Easton is a professor of Economics at Simon Fraser University and a Senior Scholar at The Fraser Institute. He received his A.B. from Oberlin College and his Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. Recent works published by The Fraser Institute include Privatizing Prisons (editor, 1998), The Costs of Crime: Who Pays and How Much? 1998 Update (with Paul Brantingham, 1998), and Rating Global Economic Freedom (editor, 1992). He was also co-author of A Secondary Schools Report Card for British Columbia (1998), The 1999 Report Card on British Columbia's Secondary Schools, Boys, Girls, and Grades: Academic Gender Balance in British Columbia's Secondary Schools (1999), and The 1999 Report Card on British Columbia's High Schools. Other publications about education include "Do We Have a Problem Yet? Women and Men in Higher Education," in David Laidler (ed.), Renovating the Ivory Tower: Canadian Universities and the Knowledge Economy (Toronto: C.D. Howe Institute 2002), pp. 60–79; "Plus ça change, plus c'est la même chose" in Stephen B. Lawton, Rodney Reed, and Fons van Wieringen, Restructuring Public Schooling (Berlin: Springer-Verlag, 1997) and Education in Canada: An Analysis of Elementary, Secondary and Vocational Schooling (Vancouver: The Fraser Institute, 1988). His editorials have been carried by the Vancouver Sun, the Globe and Mail, the Financial Post, the Ottawa Citizen, the Stirling chain and many other newspapers around the country. Professor Easton continues his work as co-author of the Institute's Report Cards on schools in Alberta and British Columbia.

Acknowledgements

The Fraser Institute wishes to acknowledge the generous support for this project from the Max Bell Foundation. Thanks also to the employees of Alberta Learning for their help in the acquisition and verification of the data upon which this Report Card is based.

We also wish to thank all of those who took the time to share with us their comments and criticisms. Without the contributions of these individuals, improvement would come much slower.
