Studies in Education Policy are published periodically throughout the year by The Fraser Institute, Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada.

The Fraser Institute is an independent Canadian economic and social research and educational organization. It has as its objective the redirection of public attention to the role of competitive markets in providing for the well-being of Canadians. Where markets work, the Institute's interest lies in trying to discover prospects for improvement. Where markets do not work, its interest lies in finding the reasons. Where competitive markets have been replaced by government control, the interest of the Institute lies in documenting objectively the nature of the improvement or deterioration resulting from government intervention. The work of the Institute is assisted by an Editorial Advisory Board of internationally renowned economists. The Fraser Institute is a national, federally chartered non-profit organization financed by the sale of its publications and the tax-deductible contributions of its members, foundations, and other supporters; it receives no government funding.

Introduction

The Report Card on British Columbia's Elementary Schools: 2003 Edition (hereafter, Report Card) collects a variety of relevant, objective indicators of school performance into one, easily accessible public document so that anyone can analyze and compare the performance of individual schools. By doing so, the Report Card assists parents when they choose a school for their children and encourages and assists all those seeking to improve their schools.

The Report Card helps parents choose

Where parents can choose among several schools for their children, the Report Card provides a valuable tool for making a decision. Because it makes comparisons easy, it alerts parents to those nearby schools that appear to have more effective academic programs. Parents can also determine whether or not schools of interest are improving over time. By first studying the Report Card, parents will be better prepared to ask relevant questions when they visit schools under consideration and speak with the staff.

Of course, the choice of a school should not be made solely on the basis of any one source of information. Web sites maintained by the British Columbia Ministry of Education and local school boards can provide useful information<sup>1</sup>. Parents who already have a child enrolled at the school can provide another point of view.

Naturally, a sound academic program should be complemented by effective programs in areas of school activity not measured by the Report Card.

Nevertheless, the Report Card provides a detailed picture of each school that is not easily available elsewhere.

The Report Card encourages school improvement

Certainly, the act of publicly rating and ranking schools attracts attention. This attention can provide both a carrot and a stick. The results of poorly performing schools generate concern, as do those of schools where performance is deteriorating. Schools that perform well or show consistent improvement are applauded. This inevitable attention provides an incentive for all those connected with a school to focus on student results.

However, the Report Card offers more than just incentive. It includes a variety of indicators, each of which reports results for an aspect of school performance that might be improved. School administrators who are dedicated to improvement eagerly accept the Report Card as another source of opportunities for improvement.

Some schools do better than others

To improve a school, one must believe that improvement is achievable. This Report Card, like the Fraser Institute's report cards on secondary schools, provides evidence about what can be accomplished. It demonstrates clearly that, even when we take into account factors such as the students' family background, which some believe dictate the degree of academic success that students will have in school, some schools do better than others. This finding confirms the results of research carried out in other countries.<sup>2</sup> Indeed, it will come as no great surprise to experienced parents and educators that the data consistently suggest that what goes on in the schools makes a difference to academic results and that some schools make more of a difference than others.

Comparisons are at the heart of the improvement process

By comparing a school's latest results with those of earlier years, we can see if the school is improving. By comparing a school's results with those of neighbouring schools or of schools with similar school and student characteristics, we can identify more successful schools and learn from them. Reference to overall provincial results places an individual school's level of achievement in a broader context.

There is great benefit in identifying schools that are particularly effective. By studying the techniques used in schools where students are successful, less effective schools may find ways to improve. This advantage is not lost on the United Kingdom's Department of Education and Skills. Its Beacon Schools program<sup>3</sup> identifies schools across the country that have demonstrated expertise in a wide variety of challenging aspects of the management of schools and the teaching and counselling of their students.

Comparisons are at the heart of improvement: making comparisons among schools is made simpler and more meaningful by the Report Card's indicators, ratings, and rankings.

You can contribute to the development of the *Report Card

The Report Card program benefits from the input of interested parties. We welcome your suggestions, comments, and criticisms. Please contact us via e-mail to: reportcards@fraserinstitute.ca.

Key academic indicators of school performance

The foundation of the Report Card is an overall rating of each school's academic performance. We base our Overall school rating on each school's academic performance on eight indicators:

- 1 average Foundation Skills Assessment<sup>4</sup> (hereafter, FSA) score in grade-4 reading;
- 2 average FSA score in grade-4 writing;
- 3 average FSA score in grade-4 numeracy;
- 4 average FSA score in grade-7 reading;
- 5 average FSA score in grade-7 writing;
- 6 average FSA score in grade-7 numeracy;
- 7 the difference between male and female students in their average FSA scores in grade-7 reading;
- 8 the difference between male and female students in their average FSA scores in grade-7 numeracy;

We have selected this set of indicators because they provide systematic insight into a school's performance. Because they are based on annually generated data, we can assess not only each school's performance in a year but also its improvement or deterioration over time.

In order to make the tables readily understandable, values for each of these indicators are presented in the tables as a score out of 10. These scores were derived from test results data that we received from the Ministry of Education. (See Appendix 1 for an explanation of the calculation of the indicator scores out of ten.) The scores report the level of achievement of each school's students compared to that of students in all the schools in the Report Card. Ten is the highest possible score and zero is the lowest possible score.

Indicators of effective teaching

Average FSA scores

These indicators (in the tables Avg score) show how well each school's students performed compared to students in all the other schools on the uniform FSA tests in reading, writing, and numeracy at the grade-4 and grade-7 levels.

Fundamental to the mission of elementary schools is teaching its students sound basic skills in reading, writing, and numeracy. Basic literacy and numeracy are essential building blocks for life-long learning. The tests upon which the Report Card is based assess students on these dimensions. Examinations are designed to achieve a distribution of results reflecting the differences in students' mastery of this course work. Differences among students in abilities, motivation, and work-habits will inevitably have some impact upon the final results. There are, however, recognizable differences from school to school within a district in the average results on the achievement tests. There is also variation within schools in the results obtained in different subject areas and at different grade levels. Such differences in outcomes cannot be wholly explained by the individual and family characteristics of the school's students. It seems reasonable, therefore, to include the average test marks in these three critical subject areas as indicators of effective teaching.

How well do the teachers take student differences into account?

The Gender gap indicators

The Gender gap indicators (in the tables Gender gap scores) use the grade 7 FSA results to determine how successful the school has been—compared to all the other schools—in narrowing the achievement gap between male and female students in reading and numeracy<sup>5</sup>.

There is much talk among education professionals about minimizing achievement gaps in our schools. Indeed, in the British Columbia Teachers' Federation's recent Brief to the Ministry of Education's Student Achievement Task Force<sup>6</sup>, more than half of the recommendations targeted the reduction of gaps in achievement between apparently disadvantaged groups of students and their classmates.

Undoubtedly, some personal and family characteristics, left unmitigated, can have a deleterious effect on a student's academic development. However, the Report Cards provide evidence that successful teachers overcome any such impediments. By comparing the results of male and female students in two subject areas—reading and numeracy—in which one group or the other has enjoyed a historical advantage, we are able to gauge the extent to which schools provide effective teaching to all of their students.

In general, how is the school doing, academically?

The Overall school rating

While each of the indicators is important, it is almost always the case that any school does better on some indicators than on others. So, just as a teacher must make a decision about a student's overall performance, we need an overall indicator of school performance (in the tables Overall school rating). Just as teachers combine test scores, homework, and class participation to rate a student, we have combined all the indicators to produce an overall school rating. The overall rating of school performance answers the question, "In general, how is the school doing, academically?"

To derive this rating, the results for each of the eight indicators, for each school year, were first standardized. Standardization is a statistical procedure whereby sets of raw data with different characteristics are converted into sets of values sharing certain statistical properties. Standardized values can readily be combined and compared.

The standardized data were then weighted and combined to produce an overall standardized score. Finally, this score was converted into an overall school rating out of 10. It is from this Overall school rating that the school's provincial rank is determined.

For schools where only boys or girls were enrolled, there are, of course, no results for the Gender gap indicators. In these cases the Overall school rating is derived using the remaining indicators. (See Appendix 2 for an explanation of the calculation of the Overall school rating.)

Other indicators of school performance

The Report Card includes another indicator that, while it is not used to derive the Overall school rating, adds more information on the school's effectiveness.

The socio-economic indicator

As noted above, educators can and should take into account the abilities, interests, and backgrounds of their students when they design lesson plans and teach the curriculum. By doing so, they can overcome disadvantages that their students may have. The socio-economic indicator enables us to identify schools that are roughly similar to each other with respect to the home background of their students so that their results can be compared. Effective schools produce good results regardless of the family background of their students.

For this edition of the Report Card, we use the level of parents' education (in the tables, Parents' avg educa- tion (yrs)) as an indicator of the family characteristics of the school's students. Previous studies<sup>7</sup> have shown that variations in student results from school to school cannot be accounted for solely by the personal and family characteristics of its students. Many other factors—undoubtedly including good teaching, counselling, and school administration—contribute to the effectiveness of schools.

Indicators like Parents' average education (yrs) describe past relationships between a socio-economic characteristic and a measure of school effectiveness. It should not be inferred that these relationships will, or should, remain static. The more effectively schools enable all their students to succeed, the weaker will be the relationship between the home characteristics of students and their academic success. Thus, this socio-economic indicator should not be used as an excuse for poor school performance.

Detailed school results

How to read the tables

Use the sample table and the explanation of each line below to help you interpret the detailed results for individual schools. Families choosing a school for their students should seek to confirm the Report Card's findings by visiting the school and interviewing teachers, school administrators, and other parents. More information regarding schools may be found on the British Columbia Ministry of Education web site at: <http://www.bced.gov.bc.ca/reports/performance.htm> and on the web sites of local school districts.

Of course, a sound academic program should be complemented by effective programs in areas of school activity not measured by the Report Card.

A: The number of students enrolled in grade 7 as of September 30, 2001. Indicator results for small schools tend to be more variable than do those for larger schools and caution should be used in interpreting the results for smaller schools.

B: The average number of years of education of the most educated parent (or lone parent in a single parent family). Higher values of this statistic are commonly thought to be associated with better student performance. Use this statistic to identify schools at which the students share similar family backgrounds.

C (left): The percentage of the tests that could have been completed by the school's students but which were not assigned a score. The Did not write percentage takes into account students who were excused from the tests, were absent for some part of the tests, or did not complete the test to the extent necessary to score it.

NOTE: Schools that administer these tests are expected to ensure that all their students participate. For this reason, you should take note of the Did not write percentage when you consider each school's Report Card results. The principal of a school with a high Did not write percentage should be able to provide good reasons for the students' failure to complete the tests.

C (right): The school's overall academic rank in the province for 2001-02 and for the last three years. The rankings show how the school has done academically compared to the other schools in the province.

D through I: The Average score indicators show how well each school's students performed—compared to students in all the other schools—on the uniform Foundation Skills Assessment tests in reading, writing, and numeracy at the grade 4 and grade 7 levels. Values for each of these indicators are presented in the tables as a score out of 10, where ten is the highest possible score and zero is the lowest possible score. They were calculated using Ministry of Education test results.

J and K: The Gender gap score indicators use the grade 7 Foundation Skills Assessment results to determine how successful the school has been—compared to all the other schools—in narrowing the achievement gap between male and female students in reading and numeracy.

L: The Overall school rating takes into account the eight indicators described in rows D through K above to answer the question, "In general, how is the school doing academically?"

Other notes

Note 1: Not all the province's elementary schools are included in the tables or the ranking. Of all the schools in the province reporting FSA results, 813 are included in this Report Card. Excluded are schools at which fewer than 15 students were enrolled in either grade 4 or grade 7. Also excluded are schools—including the province's francophone schools—that did not generate a sufficiently large set of student data to enable the calculation of an Overall school rating for the school year 2001-02.

The exclusion of a school from the Report Card should not be considered a judgement of the school's effectiveness.

Note 2: The tables showing the detailed school results are organized according to four geographic regions of the province as follows: the Lower Mainland, Vancouver Island and the Coast, the Fraser Valley and Southern BC, and the Interior and Northern BC. Within each geographic region, school districts are grouped alphabetically. To find a school's results, find its city or town in the Index of Cities and Districts and note the School District in which the city is located. Find that page upon which each school district's results begin by referring to the Index of school districts. Within each school district, both public and private schools are listed in order of their 2001/2002 provincial ranking. Where there are ties, the schools are listed in order of their provincial ranking for the last three years.

Note 3: Where there were insufficient data available with which to calculate an indicator or where a school was not in operation during a specific year, "n/a" appears in the tables.

Note 4: You can compare a school's results with these all-schools average results.

Ranking the schools

Important notes to the rankings

In this table, schools are ranked (on the left hand side of the page) in descending order (from 1 to 812) according to their academic performance as measured by the Overall school rating (shown on the right hand side of the table) for the school year 2001/2002. Each school's three-year average ranking and Overall school rating are also listed. The higher the Overall school rating (out of 10), the higher the rank awarded to the school. Where schools tied in the Overall school rating, they were awarded the same rank. Where less than three years of data was available "n/a" appears in the table.

Not all the province's elementary schools are included in the tables or the ranking. Of all the schools in the province reporting FSA results, 813 are included in this Report Card. Excluded are schools at which fewer than 15 students were enrolled in either grade 4 or grade 7. Also excluded are schools-including the province's francophone schools-that did not generate a sufficiently large set of student data to enable the calculation of an Overall school rating for the school year 2001-02.

The exclusion of a school from the Report Card should in no way be construed as a judgment of the school's effectiveness.

Appendix 1: Calculating the indicator scores out of ten

In order to make the tables readily understandable, values for each of the eight indicators are presented in the tables as a score out of 10. These scores were derived from test results data provided by the Ministry of Education. For each school, for each Foundation Skills Assessment test sitting, the Ministry provided average scaled test scores.

- 1 For each school, subject by subject, these average scaled FSA test scores were standardized by calculating  $Z$ , which is defined by:

$$Z = (X - \mu) / \sigma$$

where  $X$  is the individual school's result,  $\mu$  is the mean of the all-schools distribution of results, and  $\sigma$  is the standard deviation of the same all-schools distribution.

- 2 The gender gap scores in grade 7 reading and grade 7 numeracy were each determined by calculating the absolute value of the difference between the average scaled score for girls and the average scaled score for boys. The results for each subject were then standardized.

Each of these eight standardized scores was then converted into a score between 0 and 10 as follows:

- 3 The allowable maximum and minimum standardized scores were set at 2.0 and -3.29 respectively for the test score indicators and 1.28 and -3.29 for the gender gap indicators. Scores equal to, or greater than, 2.0 (or 1.28 in the case of the gender gap indicators) received a score of 10. This cut-off was chosen because it allows more than one school in a given year to be awarded 10 out of 10. Scores of equal to, or less than, -3.29 receive the lowest score of 0. Schools with scores below -3.29 are likely to be outliers, a statistical term used to denote members of a population that appear to have characteristics substantially different from the rest of the population. We chose, therefore, to set the minimum score so as to disregard such extreme differences.
- 4 These standardized scores were then converted into scores out of ten according to the formula:

$$S10 = \mu + (\sigma * \text{StanScore})$$

where  $S10$  is the resulting score out of ten,  $\mu$  is the average calculated according to the formula:

$$\mu = (S10_{\min} - 10 (Z_{\min} / Z_{\max})) / (1 - (Z_{\min} / Z_{\max}))$$ where  $\sigma$  is the standard deviation calculated according to the formula:

$$= (10 - \mu) / Z_{\max}$$

and StanScore is the standardized score calculated in (1) or (2) above and adjusted as required for minimum and maximum values as noted in (3) above. As noted in (3) above,  $SIO_{\min}$  equals zero,  $Z_{\min}$  equals  $-3.29$ ; and  $Z_{\max}$  equals  $2.2$ .

- 9 Finally, each indicator score out of ten is rounded to one place of the decimal.

Note that these indicator scores, based as they are on standardized scores, are relative scores. That is, in order for a school to show improvement in its indicator score, it must improve at a rate that is higher than average. If it improves, but at a rate less than the average, it will show a decline in its score.

Appendix 2: Calculating the Overall school rating

The Overall school rating is intended to answer the question, “In general, how is the school doing, academically?” The following is a simplified description of the procedure used to convert the data received from the ministry of education into the Overall school rating.

- 1 Subject by subject, the average scaled FSA test scores for each school were standardized by calculating  $Z$ , which is defined by:

$$Z = (X - \mu) / \sigma$$

where  $X$  is the individual school's result,  $\mu$  is the mean of the all-schools distribution of results, and  $\sigma$  is the standard deviation of the same all-schools distribution.

- 2 The gender gap scores in grade 7 reading and grade 7 numeracy were each determined by calculating the absolute value of the difference between the average scaled score for girls and the average scaled score for boys. The results for each subject were then standardized.
- 3 The eight standardized indicator results were then combined to produce a weighted average summary standardized score for the school. The weightings used in these calculations were: Average scores for each of the six tests—13.3%; Gender gap scores for each of the grade 7 reading and grade 7 numeracy tests: 10%. For schools for which there were no gender gap results, the average scores for each of the six tests were given weightings of 16.7%.
For the year 2000 only, the weightings used were: Average scores for each of the four tests—20%; Gender gap scores for each of the grade 7 reading and grade 7 numeracy tests: 10%. For schools for which there were no gender gap results, the average scores for each of the four tests were given weightings of 25%.
- 4 This summary standardized score was re-standardized.

This standardized score was converted into an overall rating between 0 and 10 as follows:

- 5 The allowable maximum and minimum standardized scores were set at 2.2 and -3.29 respectively. Scores equal to, or greater than, 2.2 receive an overall rating of 10. This cut-off was chosen because it allows more than one school in a given year to be awarded 10 out of 10. Scores of equal to, or less than, -3.29 receive the lowest overall rating of 0. Schools with scores below -3.29 are likely to be outliers, a statistical term used to denote members of a population that appear to have characteristics substantially different from the rest of the population. We chose, therefore, to set the minimum score so as to disregard such extreme differences.
- 6 The resulting standardized scores were converted into Overall school ratings according to the formula:

$$OR = \mu + (\sigma * StanScore)$$

where  $OR$  is the resulting Overall school rating,  $\mu$  is the average calculated according to the formula:

$$\mu = (OR_{\min} - 10 (Z_{\min} / Z_{\max})) / (1 - (Z_{\min} / Z_{\max}))$$ where  $\sigma$  is the standard deviation calculated according to the formula:

$$= (10 - \mu) / Z_{\max}$$

and StanScore is the standardized score calculated in (4) above and adjusted as required for minimum and maximum values as noted in (5) above. As noted in (5) above,  $OR_{\min}$  equals zero,  $Z_{\min}$  equals  $-3.29$ ; and  $Z_{\max}$  equals  $2.2$ .

- 9 Finally, the derived Overall school rating is rounded to one place of the decimal to reflect the significant number of places of the decimal in the original raw data.

Note that the Overall school rating, based as it is on standardized scores, is a relative rating. That is, in order for a school to show improvement in its Overall school rating, it must improve more than the average. If it improves, but at a rate less than the average, it will show a decline in its rating.
