Studies in Education Policy are published periodically throughout the year by The Fraser Institute, Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada.

The Fraser Institute is an independent Canadian economic and social research and educational organization. It has as its objective the redirection of public attention to the role of competitive markets in providing for the well-being of Canadians. Where markets work, the Institute's interest lies in trying to discover prospects for improvement. Where markets do not work, its interest lies in finding the reasons. Where competitive markets have been replaced by government control, the interest of the Institute lies in documenting objectively the nature of the improvement or deterioration resulting from government intervention. The work of the Institute is assisted by an Editorial Advisory Board of internationally renowned economists. The Fraser Institute is a national, federally chartered non-profit organization financed by the sale of its publications and the tax-deductible contributions of its members, foundations, and other supporters; it receives no government funding.

Introduction

The Report Card on Ontario's Elementary Schools: 2003 Edition (hereafter, Report Card) collects a variety of relevant, objective indicators of school performance into one, easily accessible public document so that anyone can analyze and compare the performance of individual schools. By doing so, the Report Card assists parents when they choose a school for their children and encourages and assists all those seeking to improve their schools.

The Report Card helps parents choose

Where parents can choose among several schools for their children, the Report Card provides a valuable tool for making a decision. Because it makes comparisons easy, it alerts parents to those nearby schools that appear to have more effective academic programs. Parents can also determine whether schools of interest are improving over time. By first studying the Report Card, parents will be better prepared to ask relevant questions when they visit schools under consideration and speak with the staff.

Of course, the choice of a school should not be made solely on the basis of a single source of information. Web sites maintained by Ontario's Education Quality and Accountability Office (EQAO), the provincial ministry of education, and local school boards may also provide useful information.¹ Parents who already have a child enrolled at the school provide another point of view.

Naturally, a sound academic program should be complemented by effective programs in areas of school activity not measured by the Report Card. Nevertheless, the Report Card provides a detailed picture of each school that is not easily available elsewhere.

The Report Card facilitates school improvement

Certainly, the act of publicly rating and ranking schools attracts attention. This attention can provide both a carrot and a stick. The results of poorly performing schools generate concern, as do those of schools where performance is deteriorating. Schools that perform well or show consistent improvement are applauded. This inevitable attention provides an incentive for all those connected with a school to focus on student results.

However, the Report Card offers more than just incentive. It includes a variety of indicators, each of which reports results for an aspect of school performance that may be improved. School administrators who are dedicated to their students' academic success accept the Report Card as another source of opportunities for improvement.

Some schools do better than others

To improve a school, one must believe that improvement is achievable. This Report Card, like other report cards from The Fraser Institute, provides evidence about what can be accomplished. It demonstrates clearly that, even when we take into account factors such as the students' family background—which some believe dictate the degree of academic success that students can enjoy in school—some schools do better than others. This finding confirms the results of research carried out in other countries.² Indeed, it will come as no great surprise to experienced parents and educators that the data consistently suggest that what goes on in the schools makes a difference to academic results and that some schools make a greater difference than others.

Comparisons are at the heart of the improvement process

By comparing a school's latest results with those of earlier years, we can see if the school is improving. By comparing a school's results with those of neighbouring schools or schools having similar school and student characteristics, we can identify more successful schools and learn from them. Reference to overall provincial results places an individual school's level of achievement in a broader context.

There is great benefit in identifying schools that are particularly effective. By studying the techniques used in schools where students are successful, less effective schools may find ways to improve. This advantage is not lost on the United Kingdom's Department of Education and Skills. Its Beacon Schools program³ identifies schools across the country that have demonstrated expertise in a wide variety of challenging aspects of the management of schools and the teaching and counselling of their students.

Comparisons are at the heart of improvement: making comparisons among schools is made simpler and more meaningful by the Report Card's indicators, ratings, and rankings.

You can contribute to the development of the *Report Card

The Report Card program benefits from the input of interested parties. We welcome your suggestions, comments, and criticisms. Please contact us via e-mail to: reportcards@fraserinstitute.ca.

Key indicators of school performance

The foundation of the Report Card is an overall rating of each school's academic performance. We base our Overall rating out of 10 on the school's performance on nine indicators:⁴

- (1) average level of achievement on the grade-3 EQAO⁵ assessment in reading;
- (2) average level of achievement on the grade-3 EQAO assessment in writing;
- (3) average level of achievement on the grade-3 EQAO assessment in mathematics;
- (4) average level of achievement on the grade-6 EQAO assessment in reading;
- (5) average level of achievement on the grade-6 EQAO assessment in writing;
- (6) average level of achievement on the grade-6 EQAO assessment in mathematics;
- (7) the difference between male and female students in their average levels of achievement on the EQAO assessment in grade-6 reading;
- (8) the difference between male and female students in their average levels of achievement on the EQAO assessment in grade-6 mathematics;
- (9) the percentage of EQAO assessments that did not meet the provincial standard.

We have selected this set of indicators because they provide systematic insight into a school's performance. Because they are based on annually generated data, we can assess not only each school's performance in a year but also its improvement or deterioration over time.

Indicators of effective teaching

Average levels of achievement on EQAO assessments

These indicators in the tables avg. level show the average level of proficiency achieved by the school's students on the uniform EQAO assessments in reading, writing, and mathematics at the grade-3 and grade-6 levels. The EQAO converts the raw score on each test into a level of achievement from one to four. In order to calculate the average level achieved by the students at a school on any given test, a numerical value was given to each level of achievement. Thus, Level one was given a value of 1 for purposes of determining the average; Level two, a value of 2; Level three, a value of 3; and Level four, a value of 4. A value of 0 was given in those cases where students completed the test but did not demonstrate sufficient understanding to be assigned achievement Level one. Since Level 3 is considered the provincial standard, achievement at Level 3 or 4 suggests that students are adequately prepared for work in the next grade.

Fundamental to the mission of elementary schools is teaching students sound basic skills in reading, writing, and mathematics. Basic literacy and numeracy are essential building blocks for life-long learning. The tests upon which the Report Card is based assess students on these dimensions. Differences among students in abilities, motivation, and work-habits will inevitably have some impact upon the final results. There are, however, recognizable differences from school to school within a district in the average results on the EQAO tests. There is also variation within schools in the results obtained in different subject areas and at different grades. Such differences in outcomes cannot be wholly explained by the individual and family characteristics of the school's students. It seems reasonable, therefore, to include the average test marks in these three critical subject areas as indicators of effective teaching.

Percentage of EQAO tests below standard

For each school, this indicator-in the tables Exams below standard (%)-provides the rate of failure on the EQAO assessments. It was derived by dividing the total number of all the above tests that provided enough information to enable the calculation of a score, but that did not meet the provincial standard, by the total number of such tests written by the students at the school.

Since reading, writing, and mathematics are critical to students' further intellectual and personal development, students should, at the minimum, be able to demonstrate that they meet the accepted standard of performance for their grade in these subject areas. Schools have the responsibility of ensuring that their students are adequately prepared to do so.

How well do the teachers take student differences into account?

The Gender gap indicators

The Gender gap indicators-in the tables Gender gap (level)-use the grade 6 EQAO results to determine how successful the school has been in narrowing the achievement gap between male and female students in reading and mathematics.⁶ They are determined, for each subject area, by calculating the absolute value of the difference between male and female students in their average level of achievement. The more successful sex is reported along with the difference in the detailed tables.

Across Canada, there is much talk among education professionals about minimizing achievement gaps in our schools. For example, in the British Columbia Teachers' Federation's recent Brief to the Ministry of Education's Student Achievement Task Force,⁷ more than half of the recommendations targeted the reduction of gaps in achievement between apparently disadvantaged groups of students and their classmates.

Undoubtedly, some personal and family characteristics, left unmitigated, can have a deleterious effect on a student's academic development. The Report Cards provide evidence that successful teachers overcome any such impediments. By comparing the results of male and female students in two subject areas-reading and mathematics-in which one group or the other has enjoyed a historical advantage, we are able to gauge the extent to which schools provide effective teaching to all of their students.

In general, how is the school doing, academically?

The Overall rating out of 10

While each of the indicators is important, it is almost always the case that any school does better on some indicators than on others. So, just as a teacher must make a decision about a student's overall performance, we need an overall indicator of school performance (in the tables Overall rating out of 10). Just as teachers combine test scores, homework, and class participation to rate a student, we have combined all the indicators to produce an overall rating. The overall rating of school performance answers the question, "In general, how is the school doing, academically?"

To derive this rating, the results for each of the nine indicators, for each school year, were first standardized. Standardization is a statistical procedure whereby sets of raw data with different characteristics are converted into sets of values sharing certain statistical properties. Standardized values can readily be combined and compared. The standardized data were then weighted and combined to produce an overall standardized score. Finally, this score was converted into an overall rating out of 10. It is from this Overall rating out of 10 that the school's provincial rank is determined.

For schools where only boys or girls were enrolled, there are, of course, no results for the Gender gap indicators. In these cases the Overall rating out of 10 is derived using the remaining indicators. (See Appendix 1 for an explanation of the calculation of the Overall rating out of 10.)

Other indicators of school performance

The Report Card includes other indicators that, while they are not used to derive the Overall rating out of 10, add more information on the school's effectiveness.

The Value-added indicators

Value-added measures are designed to show whether a school is having a positive effect on its students over a period of time. That is, does what happens in school-teaching, counseling, encouragement, and the like-really matter? Do students succeed, at least partly, because of the quality of the school or is it simply the case that the children of well-educated, highly motivated parents do relatively better than all the rest. One method used to isolate the effect of the school is to reduce a given school result by the amount estimated to be due to such non-school effects as the students' personal and family characteristics.

For the Report Card on Quebec's Secondary Schools—2002 Edition,⁸ Professor Richard Marceau, co-author of the Report Card, developed a technique to isolate the schools' effect on the Report Card's Overall rating indicator. His analysis used the employment income of the parents to capture family characteristics and the proportion of students entering the Secondary IV level (the equivalent of Ontario's grade 10) who were older than expected (16 years old or more) to capture the influence of individual students' characteristics and academic history. Using a technique⁹ similar to regression analysis, he reduced the overall rating by the amount estimated to be associated with the two general non-school effects. The remainder was the portion of the overall rating attributed to school effects. He then ranked the schools on this remainder, divided the ranked schools into quartiles, and assigned a letter grade to the schools in each of the quartiles. Schools that accounted for the greatest proportion of their overall rating—those who were in the first quartile of the ranking—received an A for value-added. Schools that accounted for a lesser proportion of their overall rating—those in lower quartiles, received progressively lower letter grades.

For this Report Card, we have adopted a similar technique using regression analysis to determine the school effect on student results as evidenced by their relative success in the grade-6 level EQAO assessments of reading and mathematics. The procedure estimates the extent to which the grade-6 level results are associated with parents' average education—as the measure of student family characteristics—and the results achieved by the school's students on the corresponding grade-3 tests written three years earlier—as the measure of combined student characteristics like basic ability, motivation, and prior academic experience. The grade-6 results were then reduced by the amount estimated to be associated with these two non-school effects. Finally, the schools were ranked and assigned a letter grade for value-added as described in the preceding paragraph.

Note that the value-added letter grade is only an estimate. First, we cannot be certain that every student at the school in grade 6 was also at the school in grade 3. Second, for schools whose grade-3 classes scored very well or very poorly, it is likely that any change in their level of achievement will be towards the average rather than away from it. For instance, at a school where the average level of achievement for the grade-3 class was in the top 2% of all schools, it would be extremely unlikely that its grade-6 results three years later would be even better. Third, there may be reasons unrelated to school performance that explain why grade-6 results at a school will differ markedly from grade-3 results. For instance, students at French immersion schools may be better prepared for the grade-6 English language reading test than they were for the grade-3 assessment three years earlier.

Nevertheless, the value-added indicator takes personal and family characteristics into account to provide a reasonable estimate of the effect of the school on the students' level of achievement between grades 3 and 6. (See Appendix 2 for further details of the calculation of the value-added indicators.)

The non-participation indicator

The non-participation indicator-in the tables Did not write (%)-was determined by first summing, for each of the six test sittings, the total number of students for whom no test data was submitted; who were excused from the tests; whose test results were withheld; or, who did not write sufficient responses in their test booklets to calculate a score. The six sums were then totaled. This result was then divided by the total number of tests that could have been completed if all students had fully participated in all of the tests that were administered at the school.

Schools that administer the EQAO assessments are expected to ensure that all their students write the tests. Higher participation rates provide the benefit of objective assessment of learning to more students and their parents. High participation rates also provide a more accurate reflection of the level of achievement at the school. The principal of a school at which a relatively large percentage of students did not complete the tests should be able to provide good reasons for the students' failure to do so and a well-developed plan to increase participation in future test sittings.

Detailed school results

How to read the tables

Use the sample table and the explanation of each line below to help you interpret the detailed results for individual schools. Families choosing a school for their students should seek to confirm the Report Card's findings by visiting the school and interviewing teachers, school administrators, and other parents. More information regarding test results at individual schools can be found on the Education Quality and Accountability Office (EQAO) web site at: http://www.eqao.com/eqao/home_page/05e/5_1e.html and on the web sites of local school boards and schools.

Of course, a sound academic program should be complemented by effective programs in areas of school activity not measured by the Report Card.

Please note: Private schools are not required to administer the EQAO tests. Since the Report Card is based on results achieved on these tests, only a few private schools that chose to administer the EQAO tests could be included.

- A The number of students eligible to participate in the grade-6 tests. Indicator results for schools with small enrollments tend to be more variable than do those for larger schools. Caution should be used in interpreting the results for smaller schools.
- B The schools are grouped into geographical areas. To find a school's results, find its location in the List of cities and geographical areas and note its geographical area. Find the geographical area in the List of geographical areas and regions and note its region. The Index of regions lists the page number on which each region's results begin. Within each region, the geographical areas are listed alphabetically and within each geographical region, the schools are listed in order of their 2002 provincial ranking.
- C The school name and its affiliation—public, separate, or private.
- D The name of the city or town in which the school is located.
- E The average number of years of education of the most educated parent (or lone parent in a single parent family). Higher values of this statistic are commonly thought to be associated with better student performance. Use this statistic to identify schools at which the students share roughly similar family backgrounds.

F (left) The percentage of the tests that could have been completed by the school's students but which were not assigned an overall score. The percentage, Did not write, takes into account students who were excused from the tests, who did not complete the test to the extent necessary to score it, for whom no results were received, or whose results were withheld. Note that schools that administer these tests are expected to ensure that all their students participate. For this reason, you should take note of the Did not write percentage when you consider each school's Report Card results. The principal of a school with a high Did not write percentage should be able to provide good reasons for the students' failure to complete the tests.

F (right) The school's overall academic rank in the province for 2001/2002 and for the last four years. The rankings show how the school has done academically compared to the other schools in the province.

G to L The average level achieved by the students on the grade-3 and grade-6 EQAO tests. The EQAO assigns a level of achievement to each completed test. In order to calculate the average level, a numerical value was given to each level of achievement. Thus, Level one was given a value of 1 for purposes of determining the average; Level two, a value of 2; Level three, a value of 3; and Level four, a value of 4. In those cases where a student completed the test but did not demonstrate sufficient understanding to be assigned achievement Level one, the test was given a value of 0. Achievement at Level 3 or 4 suggests that students are adequately prepared for work in the next grade.

M and N The difference (in level of achievement) between girls and boys in the grade-6 reading and mathematics tests. Where the difference favours the girls the value is preceded by an F. Where boys are favoured, the value is preceded by an M. An E means that there is no difference between the girls and the boys on this measure. Smaller differences indicate that the school is doing a good job for all its students.

O The percentage of all the completed tests written by students at the school that were judged to be below Level three. A low percentage of Exams below standard indicates that the school is successful in ensuring that most of its students are meeting or exceeding the provincial standard of performance for the grade.

P & Q This is an estimate of the school's contribution to its students' results on the grade-6 reading and mathematics tests. Schools that have a strong positive impact on their students receive an A for this indicator. Those that receive a B or a C may have some positive impact on their students. Schools that have little impact receive a D.

R: The Overall rating out of 10 takes into account the nine indicators described in G through O above to answer the question, "In general, how is the school doing academically?"

Other notes

Note 1

Not all the province's elementary schools are included in the tables or the ranking. Private schools are not required to administer the EQAO tests. Since the results of these tests form the basis for this Report Card, only those private schools that chose to administer the EQAO tests could be included. Schools that do not enroll students in both grades 3 and 6 and schools at which fewer than 15 students were enrolled in each of these grades are excluded. Also excluded are schools that did not generate a sufficiently large set of student data to enable the calculation of an Overall rating out of 10.

The exclusion of a school from the Report Card should not be considered a judgement of the school's effectiveness.

Note 2

In accordance with its regulations regarding the privacy of personal information, where school results involved less than five students, EQAO provided no data.

Note 3

Where there were insufficient data available with which to calculate an indicator or where a school was not in operation during a specific year, “n/a” appears in the tables.

Note 4

You can compare a school’s results with these all-schools average results.

* These results reflect the average size of the grade 6 gender gaps in 2001/2002. The Reading gender gap favoured females at 80.3% of schools, males at 10.5% of schools, and was even at 8.0% of schools. The Math gender gap favoured females at 47.9% of schools, males at 37.1% of schools, and was even at 15.0% schools.

Ranking the schools

In this table, schools are ranked (on the left hand side of the page) in descending order (from 1 to 2885) according to their academic performance as measured by the Overall rating out of ten (shown on the right hand side of the table) for the school year 2001/2002. Each school's four-year average ranking and Overall rating out of ten are also listed. The higher the overall rating (out of 10), the higher the rank awarded to the school. Where schools tied in the overall rating, they were awarded the same rank. Where less than four years of data was available "n/a" appears in the table.

Not all the province's elementary schools are included in the tables or the ranking. Private schools are not required to administer the EQAO tests. Since the results of these tests form the basis for this Report Card, only those private schools that chose to administer the EQAO tests could be included. Also excluded are schools at which fewer than fifteen students were enrolled in each of grade 3 and grade 6 and schools that did not generate a sufficiently large set of student data to enable the calculation of an Overall rating out of ten.

The exclusion of a school from the Report Card should in no way be construed as a judgement of the school's effectiveness.

Appendix 1: Calculating the Overall rating out of ten

The Overall rating out of 10 is intended to answer the question, “In general, how is the school doing, academically?” The following is a simplified description of the procedure used to convert the data received from the Ministry of Education into the Overall rating out of 10.

- 1 Subject by subject, the Average levels and Exams below standard values and each school were standardized by calculating Z , which is defined by:

$$Z = (X - \mu) / \sigma$$

where X is the individual school’s result, μ is the mean of the all-schools distribution of results, and σ is the standard deviation of the same all-schools distribution.

- 2 The subject-by-subject standardized Exams below standard data were then aggregated to produce a weighted average standardized value. The weighting used was the number of student writers in each subject relative to the total number of student writers of the relevant tests.
- 3 This weighted average Exams below standard result was then re-standardized.
- 4 The Gender gap values in grade-6 reading and mathematics were each calculated by determining the absolute value of the difference in the level of achievement of male students and female students at the school. The results for each subject were then standardized.
- 5 The nine standardized indicator results were then combined to produce a weighted average summary standardized score for the school. The weightings used in these calculations were: Average level for each of the six tests—8.3%; Gender gap for each of the grade-6 reading and grade-6 mathematics tests: 10%; Exams below standard—30%. For schools for which there were no gender gap results, the weightings used were: Average level for each of the six tests—10.4%; Exams below standard—37.5%.
- 6 This summary standardized score was re-standardized.

This standardized score was converted into an overall rating between 0 and 10 as follows:

- 7 The allowable maximum and minimum standardized scores were set at 2.2 and -3.29 respectively. Scores equal to, or greater than, 2.2 receive an overall rating of 10. This cut-off was chosen because it allows more than one school in a given year to be awarded 10 out of 10. Scores of equal to, or less than, -3.29 receive the lowest overall rating of 0. Schools with scores below -3.29 are likely to be outliers, a statistical term used to denote members of a population that appear to have characteristics substantially different from the rest of the population. We chose, therefore, to set the minimum score so as to disregard such extreme differences.

- 8 The resulting standardized scores were converted into Overall ratings out of 10 according to the formula:

$$OR = \mu + (\sigma * \text{StanScore})$$

where OR is the resulting Overall rating out of 10, μ is the average calculated according to the formula:

$$\mu = (OR_{\min} - 10 (Z_{\min} / Z_{\max})) / (1 - (Z_{\min} / Z_{\max}))$$ where σ is the standard deviation calculated according to the formula:

$$= (10 - \mu) / Z_{\max}$$ and StanScore is the standardized score calculated in (6) above and adjusted as required for minimum and maximum values as noted in (7) above. As noted in (7) above, OR_{\min} equals zero, Z_{\min} equals -3.29 ; and Z_{\max} equals 2.2 .

- 9 Finally, the derived Overall rating out of 10 is rounded to one place of the decimal to reflect the significant number of places of the decimal in the original raw data.

Note that the Overall rating out of 10, based as it is on standardized scores, is a relative rating. That is, in order for a school to show improvement in its Overall rating out of 10, it must improve more than the average. If it improves, but at a rate less than the average, it will show a decline in its rating.

Appendix 2: Calculating the Value-added indicators

The Value-added indicators were calculated as follows:

- 1 For the grade-6 reading and grade-6 mathematics tests, the standardized results were regressed on two independent variables—parents' average education and the grade-3 standardized average level achieved by the students at the school in the same subject three years earlier—and the regression coefficients were determined. (See tables below.)
- 2 For each grade-6 test, the proportions of the standardized result associated with Parents' average education (yrs) and the relevant grade-3 standardized average level were deducted from the total, according to the formula:

where $G6_{\text{Seff}}$ is the component of the grade-6 standardized results attributed to school effects; $G6$ is the actual, standardized grade-6 average level; b_{Ed} is the regression coefficient for parents' average education; EdMEP is the actual parents' average education (yrs) at the school; b_{g3} is the grade-3 standardized average level regression coefficient; and, $G3$ is the actual grade-3 standardized average level.

- 3 The proportion of the grade-6 standardized average level attributed to school effects ($G6_{\text{Seff}}$) was standardized.
- 4 The standardized values of $G6_{\text{Seff}}$ for all the schools were sorted from highest to lowest and divided into quartiles.
- 5 The results were converted into a letter grade determined by the quartile into which each result was placed. Schools whose result fell in the 4th (highest scoring) quartile, received a letter grade of A; those in the 3rd quartile received a letter grade of B; those in the 2nd quartile received a letter grade of C; and, those in the 1st quartile (lowest scoring) received a letter grade of D.

The data reported the average number of years of education of the most educated parent in student families. Data was weighted according to student enrollment by Enumeration Area. The Ontario Ministry of Education provided the necessary enrollment data.
